

MRS. MACSWINEY ARRIVES TO TELL COMMISSION HER STORY

Conditions in general in Ireland and the attitude of the British government and prison officials toward her husband while he was sacrificing his life for the cause of Ireland, will be told the official committee of one hundred, sitting in Washington, by Mrs. Terrence MacSwiney within the next few days. The widow of the late lord mayor of Cork arrived in New York from Ireland recently with her sister-in-law, Miss Mary MacSwiney. Large throngs have greeted her on every appearance in public since her arrival. Mrs. MacSwiney suffered severely following her husband's death. She was ill during the entire voyage across the Atlantic and spent most of her time in her cabin. Passengers aboard the boat said she appeared only once in the dining salon. "I am deeply grateful for the wonderful reception given to me, and especially to the women of America for their generous tribute to my husband's memory," she said on arrival. "I have many beautiful letters from American children, and I am happy to be in a country where so many, many people are thinking about the cause of Ireland."

Motor Truck Lowers Farm Costs

THE farmer of the Middle West is a business man who utilizes every labor or time-saving device to increase his profits. That's why the farmer is coming to be the heaviest buyer of motor trucks.

At seeding time he hauls his seed to the field, thus economizing hand labor; at harvest time he hauls his grain, potatoes, and other produce, to market, and distance being a less prohibitive factor, is able to secure better prices; and all through the year he hauls his live-stock and chickens to market, and is able to deliver them in better condition, and with a minimum of shrinkage.

These are a few reasons why the farmer finds the motor truck profitable.

It must be apparent, then, that in no other part of the nation is rural distribution of petroleum products quite so important as in the states served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). These are the farming states which supply not only the Middle West but the entire nation with food. The ten states served by this Company are well termed the bread-basket of the nation.

To be of economic service to the farmer, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) maintains throughout the territory it serves a complete chain of bulk stations, with tank wagons for delivery throughout the rural districts. The farmer has come to know that he can depend upon this service even under most trying conditions. That busy, dark green tank wagon serves the farmer with all the faithfulness with which the milk wagon and the ice wagon serve the flat dweller in the city.

The comprehensive distribution system of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is geared to service at the lowest possible cost. The money thus saved through large scale operation is passed on to the consumer by reasonable tank wagon prices throughout the territory served.

That this complete and highly efficient system of distribution maintained by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is indispensable to the new type of business farmer, no one acquainted with the facts can doubt.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Gently massage Musterole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears. Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuritis, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

HAMMOND BOY AT CAMP GRANT

Battery "D," 3rd Field Artillery, Camp Grant, Ill., Dec. 3, 1920.

Editor Times, Hammond, Ind. Having spent one year at Camp Grant and being an enthusiastic booster for the many advantages and opportunities that are offered here, I am writing this letter for publication for the information and benefit of the young men of my home town.

Camp Grant's first opportunity to the schools. Every man has the privilege of taking up any one of 12 different trades. High school, common school, and agricultural courses are also taught. The instruction is practical and thorough and the trade school shops are the best equipped in the country. The men are not taught from books, nor are they required to pass upon chalked diagrams on a blackboard, but they are taught their trades by shop practice actually doing the work. Six hours each day for five days each week are given to school work and about two hours to drill. There is not the slightest doubt in my mind that any man who will come here to work and learn, can leave here with a trade thoroughly mastered and capable of earning more money in civil life than at the time he entered the army.

The mess in our regiment is one of the best in camp, in fact, I believe that many men on the outside fare far worse than we do. Amusements of all kinds are afforded, including athletics and sports of all kinds, vaudeville, motion pictures, dancing and each regiment has its own service club equipped with player piano, phonograph, pool tables, easy chairs and library.

In closing I desire to state that at the time I was considering an enlistment at Camp Grant, Sgt. Cramer, on recruiting duty at Hammond, told me of many of the advantages offered here and it should be of interest to other men at home, he did not misrepresent the facts.

Thanking you and with kindest regards to my friends at home, I am,

Very truly yours, FRED BOYD, Btry. D, 3rd F. A.
